SWEDEN STANDS OUT

International companies are attracted to Sweden for numerous reasons. The country is a global leader in innovation with a highly skilled labor force, hungry consumers, smooth business procedures and an openness to international ownership.

Sweden stands out and outperforms the rest of Europe in many key areas, such as in terms of economy and competitiveness. Equally importantly, it is a nation of high-income earners who devote a large share of their spending on retail and food & beverages. Swedes are also recognized as widely traveled trendsetters who are innately curious about new international brands and products. And since their purchasing power is amongst the highest in Europe, they have ever-increasing means to satisfy that curiosity. Many international brands, both new and established, have already recognized that potential, but there is room for many more. The share of international retailers in Sweden is low compared to markets in the rest of Europe.

This guide charts retail opportunities in Sweden's three largest city regions – Stockholm, Gothenburg and Malmö and provides hard facts and information about the market, demand and supply. It has been developed in collaboration with the national investment council Business Sweden and the regional investment promotion agencies of Stockholm, Gothenburg and Malmö. Among the partners are property owners and consultants.

DID YOU KNOW THAT...

- A majority of the global companies that have established operations in the Nordic region have chosen to locate their regional headquarters in Sweden.
- Sweden is the 2019 EU innovation leader and the birthplace of innovative startups such as Spotify, Skype and Klarna.
- The country is also home to some of the most respected and well-known brands in the world; including IKEA, H&M, Volvo and Ericsson.
- The international apparel brand Uniqlo chose Stockholm as its first location in the Nordics, arguing that Sweden is one of the most advanced countries in the world and the most important test market of all for Uniqlo.

THE NORDICS – OUTPERFORMING EUROPE

Sweden is the world's most reputable country and the country has become synonymous with hospitality. Rising from fourth to second place in Forbes "The Best Countries for Business 2019" is evidence of that. Sweden is the largest market in the Nordics and together the Nordic countries – Sweden, Denmark, Norway, Finland and Iceland, as well as their autonomous regions – make up the 12th largest economy in the world.

THE NORDICS

- WELL-EQUIPPED FOR THE GLOBAL ECONOMY

Four of the Nordic countries – Sweden, Denmark, Norway and Finland - are not simply a group of countries with a combined population of 27 million people. These four countries are also more competitive than most other countries in the world when it comes to economic growth, stable business environments and thriving living conditions.

ECONOMIC GROWTH

The Nordic markets, and especially Sweden with twice the population of any of the other Nordic countries, have shown strong development in recent years. Being amongst the least-populated areas in Europe, while having both an increasing population and rising GDP, indicates great potential for continued economic growth. Of all the Nordic countries, Sweden has the largest market, producing a combination of stability and growth potential, due to conditions of low sovereign debt, transparent economics and a well-consolidated banking system.

STABLE BUSINESS ENVIRONMENTS

All Nordic countries have a GDP above the European average, yet prices are not as high, indicating stable business environments. While Norway stands out, with a slightly higher GDP, largely due to its abundance of oil, it is also the most expensive Nordic country to live in. Conversely, the Norwegians flock to Sweden to shop. Sweden on the other hand scores the highest in Eurostat's retail turnover index, an indicator for domestic demand. As a part of the EU, Sweden also offers a smart entry point to the greater European market.

THRIVING LIVING CONDITIONS

Most Swedes live in urban areas where, from an international perspective, the purchasing power is high. Swedes also have the best non-native English skills in the world, making these urban areas of growing interest among international companies, workers and students. This development is enhanced by thriving living conditions, such as high-quality free education and free health care, as well as the most generous parental leave in the world, with 480 days of paid parental leave.

SWEDEN AT A GLANCE

Despite the relatively small population, Sweden consistently ranks as one of the most competitive, productive and globalized countries in the world.

HIGHLY COMPETITIVE AND PROGRESSIVE NATION

The Swedish business community continues to demonstrate the ability to innovate, and with a combination of a collaborative environment and a highly skilled workforce, Sweden has become very competitive in an international setting. Sweden is the 2019 EU innovation leader, and the undeniable fact is that Sweden is home to some of the most respected and well-known brands in the world; including IKEA, Volvo, Electrolux, Ericsson, H&M, Skanska and Vattenfall. It is also the birthplace of innovative startups that have achieved global success, such as Spotify, Skype and Klarna.

ATTRACTIVE HEADQUARTERS AND ROOM FOR INVESTMENT

Sweden has the biggest population and the largest retail market of the Nordic countries. Being geographically in the center of the Nordic countries, Sweden is also notable for its strategic location. With the highest level of retail attractiveness, it is no surprise that international retailers continue to expand their business ventures, company headquarters and logistics centers to Sweden. Moreover, several sectors of the Swedish market, such as furniture & decorations and children's toys, remain somewhat unexplored by international actors, indicating that there is still room for investment.

GROWING POPULATION

Sweden's population is 10.2 million and the country has enjoyed steady population growth over the past 23 years, especially in urban areas, due to net immigration, increasing birth rates and lower mortality. The trend is only expected to continue and especially in the largest cities – Stockholm, Gothenburg and Malmö – where the majority of the population lives. Sweden is a multicultural country in which one in five people were born in a foreign country, resulting in a highly diverse population.

WEALTHY MIDDLE CLASS WITH ONE OF THE HIGHEST LEVELS OF PURCHASING POWER IN EUROPE

Disposable income and private consumption growth are stronger than in most other European countries. The progress of the economic standards of households continues to be favorable, and the real economic standard has increased by 60 percent since 1961. The difference between high and low-income households in Sweden is low, and together with a large middle-class segment with high spending power, retail opportunities are promising.

Among global companies that have established operations in the Nordic region with regional headquarters, about 64 percent have chosen to locate their regional headquarters in Sweden, 20 percent in Denmark and 8 and 9 percent in Norway and Finland respectively.

THE SWEDISH RETAIL MARKET

An increasingly attractive market for expansion, forecasted to outperform other countries.

STRONG RETAIL SALES GROWTH IN SWEDEN

The Swedish retail market has enjoyed positive annual growth for 22 consecutive years, fueled both by steadily increasing population growth and rising disposable income. Growth in both private consumption and retail sales is stronger in Sweden than in almost any other European country.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR INTERNATIONAL RETAILERS

For international retailers seeking growth and diversification, the Swedish retail market is an increasingly attractive market for expansion. The Swedish marketplace has traditionally been dominated by domestic brands and by a small number of large chains, especially in the high-volume clothing, furniture and food retail segments. It has therefore remained relatively untapped by international retailers. Two examples of this are Swedish H&M, the second largest apparel retailer in the world, and IKEA, the world's largest furniture retailer. However, in recent years many international brands have entered the Swedish retail market and established a popular position among consumers. Popular international brands with several stores in Sweden include Zara, Lidl and Sephora. More recently, actors such as Uniqlo have opened in Sweden and are laying the foundations for further expansion.

EXCELLENT LOGISTIC HUB FOR NORTHERN EUROPE

Sweden is a well-connected international hub and a smart logistical choice. Early globalization of Swedish businesses created high demand for an efficient transport and communications system and Sweden's logistics sector has become one of the most capable in Europe. All major cities in Sweden, Denmark and Norway are accessible by road or transport from Sweden in less than 12 hours. This makes Sweden the preferred choice when companies consolidate distribution and warehousing activities in Northern Europe to one central location. Moreover, Sweden also ranks at the top of the most trade-friendly and logistically efficient nations in the world.

THRIVING E-COMMERCE IN SWEDEN

E-commerce is showing strong growth in Europe and as many as 270 million Europeans today say that they regularly shop online. In fact, Sweden has one of the highest rates of online shopping in the world. Growing e-commerce is creating an increasing interest in international brands amongst Swedish consumers and for example, when Swedes are asked to name their favorite online store, the German e-commerce chain Zalando ranks in third place. Great Britain, Germany, China, the US and Denmark top the list when consumers are choosing to shop from international sites to a greater extent.

A GROWING CONSUMER INTEREST FOR INTERNATIONAL BRANDS

Despite the growing interest in foreign e-commerce stores in recent years, there is still room for more international actors within all e-commerce segments and some are still relatively untapped by international players, such as "beauty & health" and "books & media", see chart below.

One path to success in the Swedish retail market might begin with an online store, in order to better understand Swedish consumer behavior and which commodities Swedes are interested in. 51 percent of Swedish online consumers prefer a foreign webstore over a Swedish one, because they could not find the product they were looking for in Swedish e-commerce stores. This indicates that the market is still unsaturated and that there is a need for a wider Swedish retail selection.

Physical stores still have their place in Swedish consumers' hearts: Even though e-commerce is thriving, many Swedish consumers still prefer to buy things over a physical counter, and the successful investment of 6 bSEK ($657 mUSD) in the "Westfield Mall of Scandinavia" shopping destination just outside Stockholm is evidence of that.

"Ensuring consumer satisfaction, shortening lead times and providing a fashionable selection are essential elements moving forward. Therefore, we are investing in establishing a new 30,000 sqm fulfilment center near Stockholm"

- Kenneth Melchior, General Manager Northern Europe at Zalando

CONSUMERS IN SWEDEN

Curious trendsetters driven by progressive values and ideals, Swedish shoppers are known as open and forward-looking early adopters.

LOYAL EARLY ADOPTERS

Sweden is a progressive and forward-looking country, and consumption patterns reflect both individuality and equality. Swedes have a powerful thirst for the outside world and travel extensively, exposing themselves to many different cultures, and cultivating a taste for new brands as well as innovative restaurants and retail experiences. They are highly inclined to seek out and buy products, services and brands that provide something new to the market. Swedish consumers are trend-sensitive early adopters who love to try new products, and to test them against their own high standards. The tech-savvy Swedes are known not only for rapidly adopting new trends from abroad, but also for setting them. The cultural and creative industries are especially strong in Sweden, which is home to trailblazing companies such as Mojang (developer of the world-building Minecraft computer game), Spotify and a vibrant music and fashion scene – and consumers are quick to pick up on new movements.

Swedes are discerning in how they consume, valuing function and quality as much as design and branding in their purchasing decisions. At the same time, they are ardent and well-traveled shoppers who embrace new international brands and shopping concepts, especially ones they may have already encountered (and learned to love) on trips abroad.

Exhibiting a general willingness to pay a premium for well-known brands, Swedish consumers are likely to return to brands that they trust, preferring high-quality solutions over cheap or convenient options. Building trust among consumers is key to the Swedish market – and the good news is, once that trust is established, consumer loyalty tends to be strong and persistent. The openness of Swedes to the wider world paves the way for international brands to be embraced by consumers just as wholeheartedly as domestic ones.

The use of social media and mobile communication is high. Consumption patterns reflect both equality and individuality. Alternative lifestyles and relationship patterns are tolerated and welcomed. New movements in fashion, music or design are often communicated through media, blogs and through influencers.

“We believe Swedish consumers want to have a clear conscience regarding the choices they make, including their daily purchases. They are well informed about sustainability and environmental impact and tend not to purchase a product just because it’s ‘organic’ - how and why it is organic, and the quality of the product, needs to be clear.”

– Ryosuke Ino, Director/Operation Manager at MUJI Sweden AB

VALUE-DRIVEN CONSUMERS

Swedes are increasingly putting their money where their hearts are. They are highly informed consumers, expecting transparency and to know more about companies than perhaps ever before. This extends not only to the products themselves, but also to the overarching values of a company. Sweden is a highly individualized country, making consumption an important identity marker. As a result, Swedes pay great attention to, and prefer to buy from, brands that they feel reflect their values and lifestyles.

For companies, this means being open and honest about values and beliefs, and not being afraid to take a stand on social issues that matter. Committing to building a transparent brand is key to building consumer trust, engagement and loyalty, and is quickly becoming a business imperative. This is especially important in Sweden, which is a society shaped by a long tradition of openness. Brands that can provide an emotional benefit are likely to have the competitive edge, as Swedish consumers are incentivized by moral attachments to brands and products, generally not hesitating to pay more for those that are good for the environment.

“Sweden is seen as a frontrunner in adopting new technologies and setting new consumer trends. U.S. and other exporters can take advantage of a test market full of demanding, highly sophisticated customers.”

– U.S. Department of State, 2018

SUSTAINABILITY AS A DRIVING FORCE

Climate change is one of the single greatest issues engaging Swedish consumers, and they are increasingly expecting brands to commit actively to sustainable development. Consumers are placing higher demands than ever on companies not only when it comes to minimizing environmental impact, but also making a positive contribution. Though environmental responsibility is not new to Swedes, who have a long history of managing their landscape respectfully and with care, in the wake of Greta Thunberg's internationally recognized climate strike the issue has effectively been brought to the forefront.

The Swedish debate around climate change tends to highlight individual action and responsibility. This has resulted in many consumers, not least young consumer groups, increasingly reflecting upon their consumption and its environmental and social effects. However, this does not necessarily result in decreased consumption. In fact, Sweden has greater retail spending per capita than many other European countries. At the same time, the way consumers view their possessions is beginning to shift. There is a growing interest in brands that offer recycling, repairing and second-hand products.

The importance of ownership is being challenged by access-driven businesses that are shaking up established categories. The sharing-based economy is expanding, driven by changing consumer needs and attitudes, and there is a plethora of innovative startups following in the footsteps of pioneers such as Uber and Airbnb (examples include Qasa, focusing on private home leasing). Staying true to their propensity to rapidly adapt to new ways of life, Swedish consumers have proven quick to take sharing services to their hearts. This shift in consumer behavior can be effectively harnessed by traditional retail as well, and there are many examples of established brands launching selling, lending or re-selling services, often in partnership with sharing-oriented startups. A local example is the Swedish apparel brand Filippa K, which has its own second-hand stores. There is also a growing number of secondhand stores focusing on designer brands, such as Stockholm-based Arkivet, and services such as Sabina & Friends where consumers can rent designer clothing.

CASE: SELLPY

“We Swedes like to feel safe and are looking for a safe consumption environment where we know that we are doing what’s right. We are also curious, well-read and demand honesty and transparency in what we consume.”

– Ida Ström, Restaurant Manager & Sommelier, Fotografiska Museum Stockholm

“On average, Swedish consumers have resources and purchasing power well above that of most other European consumers.”

– Santander Trade (Santander Bank)

Sellpy is a fast-growing startup that offers an online selling service and e-commerce for secondhand items such as clothing, toys and household items. Among the investors are the Swedish fashion empire H&M. During 2017, Sellpy doubled its turnover, and in 2018, it increased by 36 percent. With a clear focus on customer experience, the company has developed an AI-driven pricing model and offers a number of different delivery options, including home delivery. Sellpy is also moving into physical retail through collaborations with established actors. Among them is Swedish fashion brand Indiska – in 2019, Sellpy opened a temporary shop-in-shop in one of Indiska's Stockholm stores, selling vintage jeans. The concept was also launched online.

“With the current shift in fashion towards more sustainable business models, we see a huge opportunity for second hand in Sweden. Most consumers however are still driven more by convenience than sustainability in their purchase decisions, so it’s going to be key to provide a great buying experience.”

– Gustav Wessman, CMO & Partner at Sellpy

SHOPPING TOURISM

The Swedish economy is the largest in the Nordic region, and with increasing volumes of international visitors and record shopping expenditure, the Swedish retail and restaurant sector is looking promising.

SWEDEN IS GAINING ATTENTION

Sweden offers everything from killer fashion to five-star culinary experiences, contributing to a growing interest in Sweden from travelers around the world. This has also resulted in the entry of many international retailers. The fact that tourism is the fastest growing service industry sector in Sweden has had a significant impact on the retail and shopping culture. Revenues from international visitors have more than doubled in the last five-year period, and visitor volumes have increased faster than the European average. There is great demand for new products and services. This, coupled with the fact that Sweden is a progressive and trendsetting country with a good infrastructure, makes it an attractive expansion destination for international retailers.

Sweden also has excellent communications, with an increasing amount of direct and low-cost flights as well as a road and railway network with easy access to the rest of Europe. Several major ferry lines serve the countries around the Baltic Sea, making Sweden a popular cruise destination. This ensures continued accessibility and future inflows of visitors.

FOODIE NATION

The restaurant and food segments in Sweden offer high potential in terms of purchasing power, consumer interest, as well as favorable conditions for foreign companies to establish themselves. People living in Sweden are distinct for their great interest in eating out, compared to other countries in the Nordics, as well as for their appreciation for healthy food concepts. This has helped Sweden to emerge as a foodie nation, and with its modern food scene and world-recognized Swedish chefs, it has transformed itself into one of Europe's haute cuisine spots.

SWEDES LOVE TO EAT OUT

While it is not necessarily always cheap to eat out in Sweden, it is a popular form of social interaction both for residents and for the millions of tourists that visit each year. Swedes are spending more and more of their disposable income in restaurants and they value concepts that offer inventive menus, unique flavors, and trendy experiences. On average 18 percent eat out for dinner at least once a week. When it comes to lunch, on average a third of the Swedish population eats out at least once a week, and the percentages are higher in the larger cities. Consequently, property owners and mall owners are devoting more retail space to restaurants.

The modern Swedish consumer is looking to "buy more time", creating a shift from traditional grocery consumption towards meals for immediate consumption. Consequently, restaurants and cafés are increasing their market shares. Moreover, restaurant turnover has increased tremendously since 2008, especially in the larger cities.

INCREASING DEMAND FOR RESTAURANTS, CAFÉS AND HEALTHY CONCEPTS

The Swedish restaurant and café industry is booming, and even though the market is dominated by domestic players, there is room for new alternatives. Swedes love it when innovative and international concepts expand to Sweden, including examples such as the successful establishment of the British concept Wagamama and the Danish concept Joe & The Juice.

The line between food service and retail is blurring, as popular food blogs and creative new concepts are increasing Swedish consumers' interest for innovative food experiences. This allows for retailers to offer restaurant services, along with drinks and ready-to-eat meals, and thus create a relaxing atmosphere where customers can stop and rest. For example, several H&M and Arket stores in Sweden have opened in-store cafés, a concept that the H&M group has also expanded to London and other European cities.

Swedes are interested in healthy food and beverage concepts and despite the establishment of several of such chains in the past few years, the market is still unsaturated and there is a high untapped potential for various healthy food concepts. Green alternatives are undoubtedly popular among Swedes and 23 percent are either flexitarians, vegetarians or vegans (Food & Friends, 2019).

... Sweden offers world-class cuisine with a total of 29 Michelin stars shared between as many as 22 restaurants.

“Sweden may be our best market; Swedes go out and have lunch in a different way than Danes. Perhaps it's more of an outgoing culture. In any case, it has worked very well.”

“The segment between fast food and fine food was completely empty. There I saw an opportunity.”

A PIONEER MARKET

Sweden has outstanding infrastructure and a good climate for innovation, as well as a skilled and diverse workforce. Innovative startups attract many competent international workers and there are a growing number of exciting actors looking to settle in Sweden.

CULTIVATES INNOVATION

Sweden has enjoyed tremendous expansion and has quickly become not only the tech hub of the Nordics but also, according to the European Commission, is the 2019 world leader in innovation. With Spotify, Skype, iZettle, Klarna, Oatly, Minecraft and King, to name only a few, Stockholm has the second highest number of startups in the world per capita. Consequently, it is no surprise that investments in Sweden are at record level and Sweden has the highest spending on R&D in Europe.

Swedish culture also plays a part in cultivating innovation. In Sweden, CEOs often work closely with their colleagues, fostering a collaborative culture. Sophisticated cooperation between startups, universities, industry and government means knowledge is shared effectively.

SWEDEN ATTRACTS FOREIGN TALENT

Sweden is one of the foremost countries in the world at attracting international talent, according to The Global Talent Competitiveness Index. Despite Sweden's small size, startups are flourishing in all industries and foreign talent is attracted from all around the world. Sweden's generous social welfare system has resulted in high productivity coupled with low working hours. Free universities allow for a highly educated and talented population. And Sweden's strategic location within the Nordics, together with the highest level of English skills in the world, further attracts international talent, all contributing to the fact that 64 percent of the headquarters of foreign companies in the Nordics are located in Sweden.

FRONTRUNNER

Sweden is a frontrunner in adopting new technologies, and a world leader in sustainability and green technology.

DIGITALLY ADVANCED

The high levels of digital development in Sweden places it at the cutting edge, ranking 2nd in the world in the 2019 Digital Economy and Society Index (DESI). For instance, Sweden leads the way in cashless payments. Swedish consumers prefer to use their bank cards or the mobile payment Swish when making a purchase. For retailers, payments by card minimizes the risk of robberies and speeds up the payment process. Moreover, research has shown that consumers spend more when they pay by credit card.

STRONG ENVIRONMENTAL PERFORMANCE

Sweden is one of the most sustainable countries in the world, as evidenced by the fact that it has once again been ranked number one in Robescosam's Country Sustainability Ranking. CO2 emissions per unit GDP are well below the European average and falling. Sweden offers unbeatable opportunities for businesses to build a strong environmental profile, and moreover the country has the lowest electricity prices in the EU.

A WORLD LEADING TECH AND CREATIVE HUB

Stockholm is a city that invests in innovation, a unicorn factory where anything is possible. This attitude and atmosphere makes Stockholm a natural hub for creativity, technology, fashion, music, design, and gaming development.

Stockholm is the creative capital that has never been anchored to the status quo. It is no surprise that some of the most internationally successful startups began here; including Spotify, Skype, Klarna, King, Mojang, and iZettle.

A CITY OF INTERNATIONAL INFLUENCE

With one of Europe's highest GRPs per capita and considerable purchasing power, Stockholm County has Sweden's highest income earners. From sidewalk cafés to high street shopping, Stockholmers enjoy spending their time and capital on experiences that reflect their cultivated tastes and values. Their famously sophisticated style and progressive perspectives make Stockholmers internationally influential in setting the next retail trends.

FORWARD-THINKING AND FUTURE-READY

Stockholm's first-rate infrastructure, high economic potential and wealth of human capital places it amongst the world's top future-ready economies, a popular choice for regional headquarters of multinational companies such as Amazon Web Services. That forward-thinking culture also fosters domestic creativity. Stockholm has produced more unicorn startups per capita than any region outside California's Silicon Valley.

SUPPLYING THE DIGITAL DEMAND

As the tech hub that Stockholm is, the city has fully embraced digitalization: cashless payments are the norm, taxes can be paid via smartphone, and 70% of the population shops online. There is also a thriving sharing economy; nine e-scooter companies battle for market share on every corner. With seamless digital integration becoming an increasingly necessary aspect of the retail experience, Stockholm is poised to lead the way.

AN ATTRACTIVE INVESTMENT FOR EVERYONE

Spanning a stunning archipelago, surrounded by lakes, sea and forest, Stockholm is one of the world's most beautiful cities. It is also one of Europe's fastest expanding urban centers, attracting talent from around the globe, drawn to the professional opportunities and high quality of life that Stockholm offers.

Consistently heading global business and innovation rankings, Stockholm's commitment to democracy, diversity and sustainability as core social values has also given it a distinctly international appeal. With over 190 nationalities living here, Stockholm is Scandinavia's melting pot.

Stockholm has one of the cleanest (and tastiest) tap waters in the world. No need to buy bottled water.

Ranked by the Global Talent Competitiveness Index as one of the World's best cities for growing, attracting and retaining talent, Stockholm attracts considerable interest from international companies, with a surge of foreign investments in recent years.

GREAT OPPORTUNITIES FOR INTERNATIONAL RETAILERS

Stockholm has one of Europe's fastest growing populations and it welcomes millions of visitors every year, coming from all around the world. In the past five years, over 40 new international direct flight routes have opened, including connections between Stockholm and Singapore, Milan, Dusseldorf, Shanghai and New Delhi. With over 14 million commercial overnight stays in 2018, the city continues to climb the list of most attractive destinations in Europe.

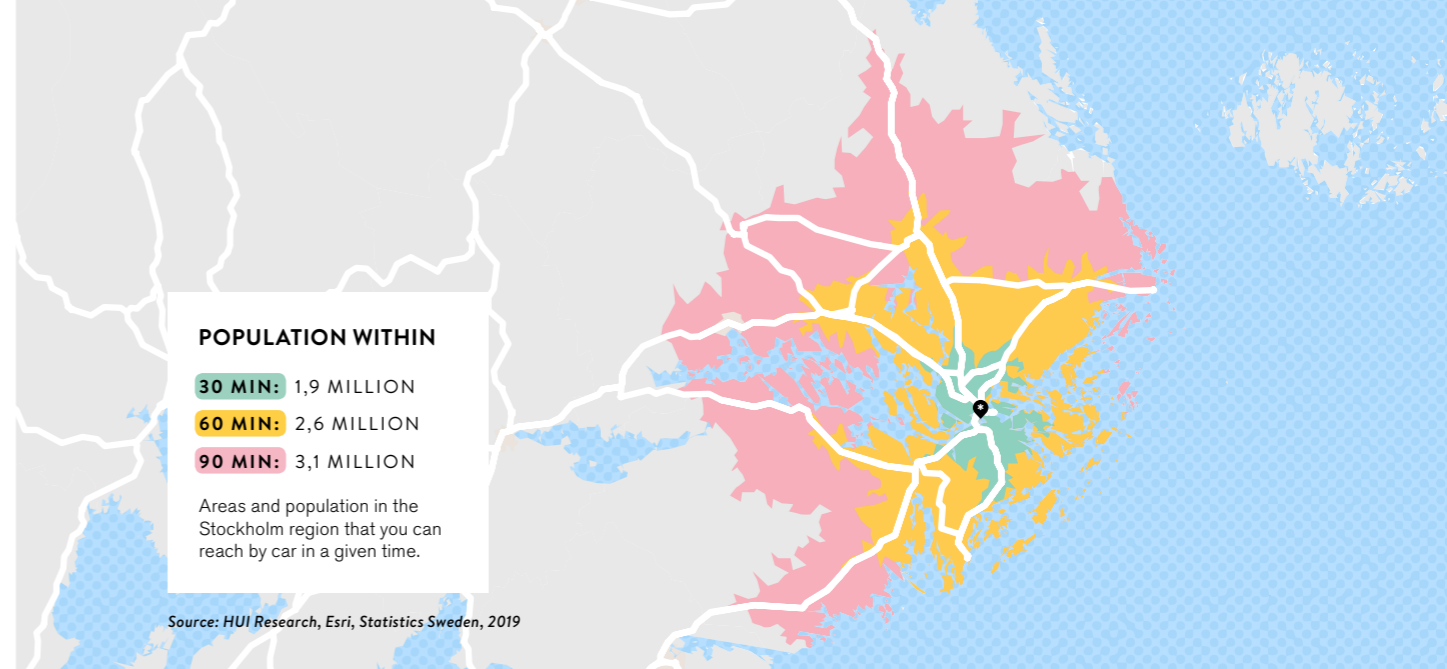

As Stockholm's population increases, so do opportunities for international retail brands. Expanding retail sales and high population growth rates have generated considerable investment in new retail space developments and expansions of shopping centers and city districts, making Stockholm an easy entry point into the Swedish market. Simply put: Stockholm offers high purchasing power, one of Europe's most popular tourist destinations and an attractive business environment.

Stockholm has the highest number of unicorns, billion-dollar startup companies, per capita in the world after Silicon Valley.

DID YOU KNOW THAT STOCKHOLM...

- ...is one of world's best cities for attracting global talent.
- ...is ranked as the world's fifth most reputable city.

RETAIL DEVELOPMENT IN STOCKHOLM CITY

Many new developments are underway in Stockholm city. Ranging from the bold renewal of iconic shopping destination NK to the ambitious revamping of entire retail districts – creating new social spaces indoors and outdoors, connecting hotels, retail spaces, offices and restaurants.

SERDELSTAN

A new living room in the heart of Stockholm

Sergelstan is the common name for the area in the very center of the city, which is in many ways seen as the heart of Stockholm. It is a place where people come to shop, browse, go to the theater, protest, celebrate and play chess or simply hang out. The area is undergoing considerable transformation aimed to promote it as a lively area, full of vivacity, never asleep and packed with activities and inviting spaces. The premises will be ready for the first tenants in 2020–2022. See area mapped out on page 37.

HAMNGATAN RETAIL, next door to the H&M flagship store, is the #1 flagship location in Stockholm. Connected with the steady flow of shoppers through Sergelgöngen below Hamngatan, the property boasts new office space and multiple terraces, and will also have one of the city's largest roof-top terraces, with a restaurant and bar and spectacular views.

MALMSKILLNADSGATAN FOOD & BEVERAGE.

Vasakronan is developing one of the most interesting restaurant areas in the city, offering a wide range of cuisine, from fine dining to trendy and healthy take-away concepts. A roof-top bar and al fresco dining at street level makes this a great destination from early morning to late night. The development also houses new office space, featuring a co-working concept, a rooftop bar, as well as some 30 residential units.

PAVILJONGEN/THE PAVILION, on the corner of Sveavägen and Hamngatan, is a 300 sq.m pavilion that will house restaurants and cafés as well as spaces for experience-based concepts such as art installations and creative meetings.

SERDELGATAN RETAIL. With 13,000 sq.m of contemporary shopping, this street has a steady flow of pedestrians and upcoming plans for new shopping and restaurant experiences. All for an urban and style conscious audience.

SOLTRAPPAN/THE SUN STAIRCASE. These new wide steps will connect Sveavägen and Sergels torg with Malmskillnadsgatan, providing a sun-drenched place to rest, people-watch, meet with friends or enjoy a coffee.

SVEAVÄGEN & SERGELS TORG. This is new retail spaces along both sides of Sveavägen. It is connecting Hamngatan to Sergelgatan and thereby combines two of the strongest retail locations in Stockholm. The footfall in this area is high all day and night.

In the autumn of 2020 the leading event and restaurant group in Sweden, Stureplansgruppen, will open a spectacular event arena on Sveavägen, that will be able to host large conferences, concerts and events.

VASAGATAN

Stockholm's most central street is getting an upgrade

The Central Station, boasting 11,000 sq.m of retail space, is unbeatable in terms of access. The main commercial area on the street for the most part currently consists of large hotels and restaurants. New developments are underway to make this street into an attractive new gateway to central Stockholm. Starting in 2018, a more attractive area is being constructed, with wider sidewalks as well as space for more outdoor restaurants. Traffic will be reduced in favor of pedestrians and cyclists. The project is expected to be completed in 2022. The City of Stockholm and real estate owners on the street are collaborating within Management Vasagatan towards a shared vision of an all-day, all-year round open street, bustling with contemporary F&B and retail concepts.

GAMLA BROGATAN

Bringing back the trendy atmosphere to one of Stockholm's most unique streets

The location between Drottninggatan and Vasagatan shows the potential for this 250 meter stretch of street. In the past, the street had a strong position as a trendy hub and attracted the newest concepts. The character is unique with a taste of a friendly small town with creative concepts, restaurants and cafés. Located right next to two of the city's busiest retail streets the potential for substantial customer flows is tremendous. The new commuter train station (Citybanan) at Vasagatan in the beginning of Gamla Brogatan is drawing attention and will contribute further to customer flows. The real estate owners have started renewal work, within Management Gamla Brogatan, focusing on both indoor and outdoor environment together with the municipality. Strong and creative concepts such as Grandpa, Volt, Dr Denim and three-star Michelin restaurant Frantzén are already established, and the work will continue to make room for more.

STURE

The place to meet

The City of Stockholm and ADIA, Abu Dhabi Investment Authority are collaborating on a redevelopment of Sturekvarteret with a planned completion in 2025. Together they are updating this classic business, shopping and entertainment district into a meeting destination with plenty of space in an unbeatable location.

The vision includes to create several yards, additional restaurants, a large food hall, a new hotel as well as modern offices and residential spaces. The 8,000 sq m of commercial space and the new food hall will share a completely new ground floor accessible through a new exit from the metro.

THE THRIVING WEST COAST CAPITAL

With a thriving business environment and a strong entrepreneurial spirit, Sweden's second city is not only a hotbed for innovation – it is also known for its open-mindedness, ranked as the most sociable city in the world.

A PROGRESSIVE REGION PERFECTLY POSITIONED IN SCANDINAVIA

Home to Volvo, Gothenburg is a center for knowledge-intensive industries and advanced services. It is also Scandinavia's leading hub for both imports and exports of goods, boasting the Nordic countries' largest port, with a strategic location at the epicenter of Scandinavia. About 70 percent of Scandinavia's population and industry is within 500 km of Gothenburg. The region is an innovation leader in the EU, according to the European Commission.

A CITY IN TRANSFORMATION

Gothenburg is one of the most rapidly expanding regions in Europe, and the city is in the process of its biggest development leap in modern history. By 2035 around 105,000 homes will have been built in the region and an estimated EUR 100 billion will be invested in property developments and infrastructure. Many of the development projects are in optimal city locations. Commercial space is also being built in large volumes across the Gothenburg region.

IMPRESSIVE RETAIL GROWTH

Retail sales are an important growth engine for the Gothenburg region. In recent years, the region has seen a steady wave of international retailers and products enter its market, including Tesla, Superdry and Victoria's Secret. Gothenburg is increasingly making waves on the fashion scene. It is the birthplace of global brands Nudie Jeans, Monki, Elvine, Dr Denim and Twist & Tango. Meanwhile, major Swedish chains MQ, Lindex and KappAhl all have their headquarters in the city.

THE SOCIAL CITY

Gothenburg has been named the world's most sociable city – and for good reasons. The city is characterized by a propensity for openness and socializing, offering a lively nightlife as well as a dynamic and innovative culinary scene. There is an exciting array of food options, spanning everything from Michelin-starred restaurants to innovative street food. Gothenburg is known for its social dining scene, with relaxed and modern options serving up a range of different cuisines. The proximity to the sea and archipelago also means that the selection and quality of fish and seafood is second to none in Sweden. With a flourishing micro-brewery scene, Gothenburg is also one of Europe's hottest hubs for craft beer.

A SHOPPING AND TOURISM DESTINATION

Gothenburg is a city open to the world. It is a highly popular event and tourist destination, and the region is proactively working on drawing in even more visitors, with the objective of doubling its incoming tourism by 2030. In 2018, the number of guest nights spent in the region rose for the 27th year in a row. Gothenburg is an attractive destination for shopping, offering a mixture of small independent shops, international stores and large malls. It is estimated that foreign tourists in Gothenburg spend on average half their holiday budget on shopping. Most foreign visitors come from Norway, Germany, the United Kingdom and the United States. Extensive experience and excellent facilities also place Gothenburg in a strong position as a venue city.

One of the world's best food destinations 2019 - according to National Geographic.

A WORLD LEADER IN SUSTAINABILITY

Gothenburg is an international frontrunner in sustainability and green solutions, highly committed to making a change for the better, both environmentally, socially and economically. Practically all of the hotels in the city and many of its restaurants are environmentally certified, and over 90 percent of all public transport is powered by renewable energy. This means that Gothenburg is rapidly moving towards being a low carbon economy.

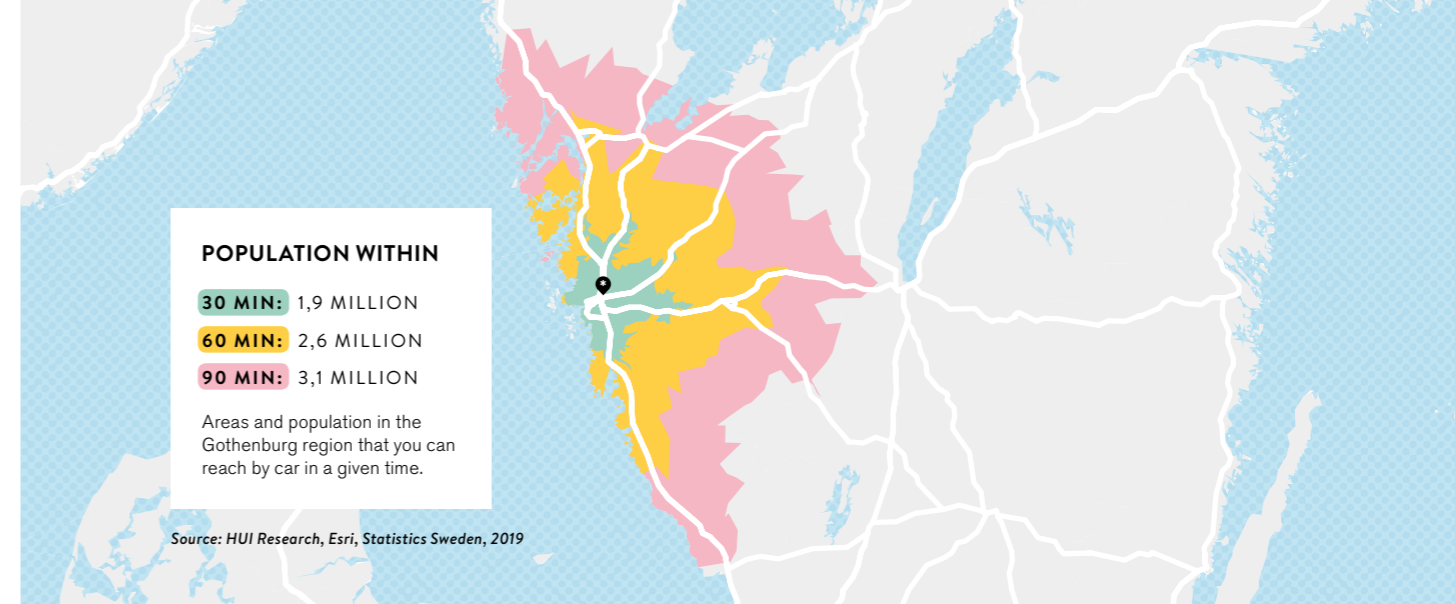

In 2018, Gothenburg was named the world's most sustainable destination, ranking higher than cities such as Copenhagen, Reykjavik and Oslo. The city has an impressive number of cutting edge 'cleantech' companies, with high levels of expertise in technical solutions to help reduce climate impact. It is also home to innovative actors within the fashion industry. Examples include The Circular Textile Initiative, which focuses on groundbreaking solutions to reduce the environmental impact of fashion textiles, and the recent opening of H&M's Take Care concept, which offers repair and sewing services to consumers while giving unemployed women an entry into the labor market.

"The city's blue-and-white trams still rumble down the wide boulevards, but visitors will also find a diverse music scene, inspiring art, world-class breweries, trendsetting shops and gregarious locals determined to convince you that this west coast is the best coast."

SUSTAINABLE, SUCCESSFUL & STRATEGICALLY IMPORTANT

Located just 20 minutes from mainland Europe and Copenhagen, across the Öresund bridge, Malmö is Sweden's most European city. As the economic hub of the country's southernmost region, Skåne, it lies within the most densely populated part of Scandinavia.

Europe meets Scandinavia in Skåne, and the result is the best of both worlds—here, Swedish values and sensibilities are warmed by the influence of the multicultural mainland. Joined to Copenhagen via the Öresund Bridge and a shared economic area that is home to 4 million consumers, Malmö is a city rooted in diversity, ingenuity and togetherness. Known for its sustainability initiatives, innovative economy and superior quality of life, Malmö is an exciting new destination for any retail brand.

SWEDEN'S HAPPIEST CITY

Named Sweden's happiest city in 2016 by the European Commission, Malmö is also one of its most multicultural—more than 170 different nationalities call the city home. Drawn by its vibrant food and art scene, international reputation for supporting foreign-owned businesses, and numerous world-class universities in its vicinity, Malmö's population is young, diverse, highly educated, and growing. As a result, purchasing power and retail sales in Malmö are increasing.

The residents of Malmö are smart shoppers with a particular interest. New, hip, brands and Malmö's retail landscape offers a well-balanced mixture of city center malls, high street retail and larger city periphery shopping complexes to meet everyone's needs. This combination has made it the perfect place for both boutique and large international brands to establish. Recent newcomers to the scene include Normal, Afound, Apple, Zara Home, COS, &Other Stories, Slettvoll, Chanel, Hollister Co., and Desigual.

AN ATTRACTIVE DESTINATION FOR RETAIL TOURISM

The Öresund Bridge is the famous link between Malmö and Copenhagen, where people and goods flow freely and easily between Sweden and Denmark. Mutually beneficial for both cities, it is common for residents to travel between the countries daily for work, shopping, and entertainment. Malmö is an especially attractive city for Danes, who add approximately 5.8 Billion SEK to Skåne's tourism industry each year as they frequent Sweden's restaurants and retail centers.

Malmö is a popular city for international tourists in the Öresund Region as well, as it is easily explored by walking or cycling and provides plenty of opportunities for shopping and eating. Offering some of the mildest temperatures in all of Scandinavia, Malmö is a city that begs to be explored, from the high streets of the historic old town to the stunningly modern architecture of the waterfront Western Harbor.

A THRIVING HUB FOR GLOBAL BRANDS

In recent years, Malmö has established itself as a thriving hub for innovation and tech, drawing more startup investment in 2016 than any other Scandinavian non-capital. With nearly 10% of all Nordic headquarters located in Skåne — a figure two times higher than for Oslo, and 6 times higher than for Helsinki — it is a competitor in its own right. Global companies including Massive Entertainment, IBM, King, Dow, Mercedes-Benz, Vestas and Perstorp have all chosen Malmö for their regional headquarters. In the greater Skåne region companies such as Canon, Sony, Bosch, Borg Warner, The Absolut Company, Schneider Electric and Oatly have established offices.

SWEDEN'S MOST STRATEGIC SITE

Malmö's position as the gateway to Scandinavia makes it one of the most strategic logistic positions in the Nordics, with one third of all trade in Sweden passing through the region. And a major new infrastructure project is set to make Malmö's location even more attractive. The Fehmarn Belt will create a seamless connection between Sweden and Germany when completed, making it the world's longest combined road and rail tunnel. The current journey takes between seven and eight hours, but the Fehmarn Belt will reduce travel times between Malmö and Hamburg to just three hours. The project is expected to be completed by 2030.

DUE TO BECOME EVEN MORE ATTRACTIVE

Malmö is making significant investment into sustainable urban development. The city is investing in electrical public transport, bike lines and an additional 28,550 new homes in Malmö and the larger region.

KEY RETAIL AREAS IN MALMÖ CITY CENTER

Malmö offers a large selection of designer boutiques and young, trendy fashion retail and food outlets. Commercial pedestrian areas stretch from Stortorget along Södergatan, Skomakaregatan and Baltzarsgatan, past Gustav Adolfs Torg and Södertull, all the way down Södra Förstadsgatan to Triangeln and Möllevången. Most of the shopping districts are pedestrian only, and within walking distance.

CITY CENTER

Malmö Central Station is Sweden's third largest station with over 45,000 travellers passing through each day. Since the Citytunnel opened in 2010, the station has gone through major renovations, successfully combining new modern architecture with beautiful historic buildings, such as Kungälången, the time waiting lounge for the king in the 19th century. At Malmö Central Station you will find a mix of shops selling books, magazines and flowers, as well as a wide range of good quality and tasty restaurants and coffee shops with flavors from all over the world.

Södergatan is one of the city's oldest streets - with a rich tapestry and a strong flow of people. The architecture of the buildings trace the history of Malmö, from the Flensburg House dating back from 1596 to Baltzar City opened in 2002. Baltzar City is in an attractive location in the middle of the city. The beautiful glass façade of the building makes for a spectacular contrast to the surrounding turn of the 20th century houses. Shops on Södergatan include Zara, Mulberry, Eton, Peak Performance, Filippa K and Bolia.com. Södergatan is also home to Åhléns City, one of Sweden's leading department store chains.

Baltzargatan and Skomakargatan form one of Malmö's most exclusive shopping streets. At the intersection where Baltzargatan meets Södergatan and becomes Skomakargatan, shoppers find high-end boutiques such as Marlene Birger, Lacoste, littala, Nespresso, Gagliardi and Whyred. On Baltzargatan you will smell the aroma of brewing coffee at the very popular Lilla Kafferosteriet housed in a charming 17th century yellow Swedish house.

The Form/Design Center is in Hedmanskagården at Lilla Torg. Here you will find the best in Scandinavian design and local arts and crafts. Lilla Torg is a large outdoor area that is home to several of Malmö's best-known restaurants and clubs. The square is one of Malmö's busiest locations - no matter the season.

is Malmö's most colorful neighborhood with lively markets, shops and vibrant restaurants from all around the world. There are 177 different countries represented in Malmö, and they all meet in Möllevångstorget. When it comes to restaurants, you will find virtually the whole world represented here. Close to Möllevångstorget is also Malmö Chokladfabrik/Chocolate factory, Malmö Chocolate Museum and microbrewery Malmö Bryggghus, all showcasing proud traditions from southern Sweden's long and renowned food and drink culture.

SÖDRA FÖRSTADSGATAN/TRIANGELN

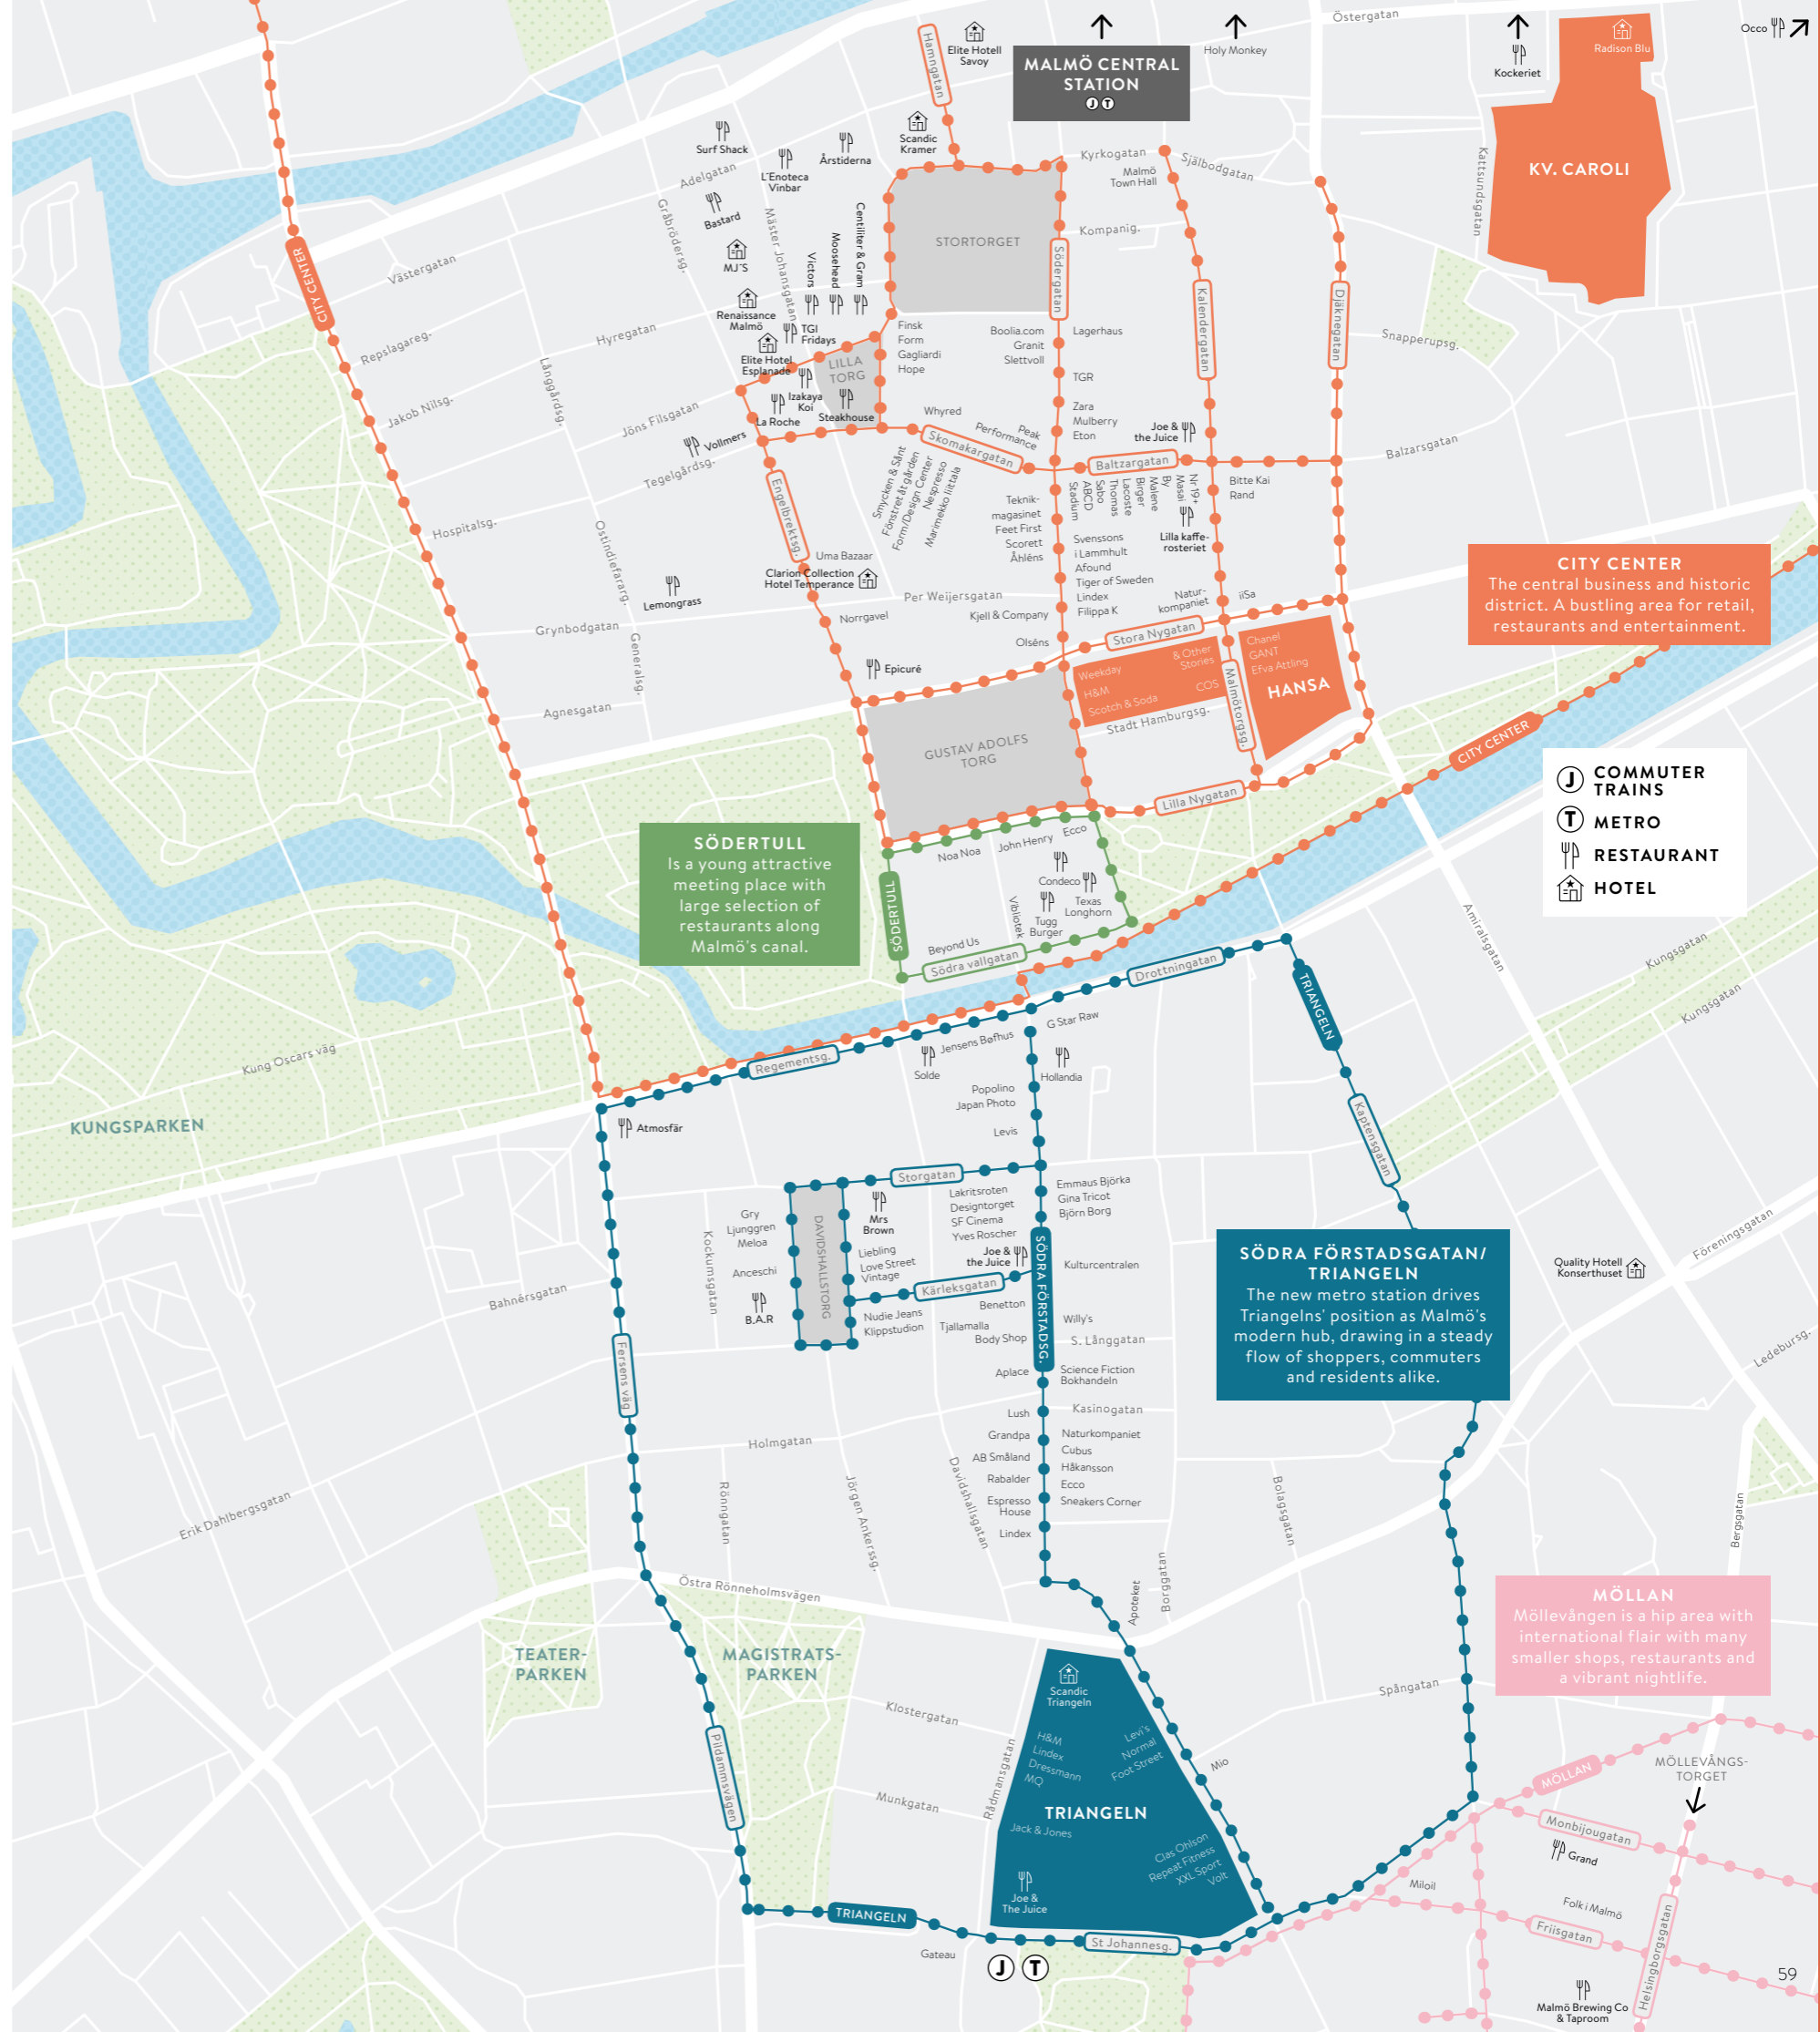

is a popular pedestrian shopping street that stretches from Davidshalls Bridge to the Triangeln shopping center, where you'll find Design Torget, Grandpa, Levis, Lakritsroten, AB Småland and Benetton.

Over recent years, many new restaurants, cafés and shops have popped up in the area around Davidshalls Torg. Most of the stores cater to a young and trend-conscious audience, but you can still find everything from boutiques with custom designs to vintage shops. Find your favorite designer at Tjallamalla, Gry, Aplace, Anceschi or Liebling.

SÖDERTULL

Since the reconstruction in 2002, Södertull has become a meeting place in the south with proximity to water. Södertull is a favorite among sun-thirsty Malmö residents from the time temperatures start to rise in the spring to well into the fall. If you are hungry, there is a large selection of restaurants, fast food outlets and cafés, including Texas Longhorn, Condeco, Vibliotek and TUGG Burgers.

A new retail marketplace called Beyond Us is opening at Södertull in 2019. Beyond Us is 1000 sq.m. of innovative retail space - with a vibrant mixture of fashion, technology, lifestyle and interior design, with a particular focus on consumer experience. Every third month new and exciting brands will showcase new collections.

H+ AND OCEAN HARBOR – HELSINGBORG

H+ is the largest urban renewal project in Helsingborg in modern times. The project will include 1 million square meters of old harbor and industrial sites. Expected completion is in 2035 which will make room for some 5,000 homes, office space, schools, retail and restaurants and meeting places. Oceanhamnen is the first stage of H+, with a direct connection to the central station via a pedestrian and cycling bridge. The area will include a residential area with about 340 residential units as well as a new business district that will provide space for 32,000 square meters of business premises and retail space. Project time expected 2017–2020.

SÖDERPUNKTEN / SÖDER GLÖDER – HELSINGBORG

In central Helsingborg, Skanska is renovating and expanding the mall Söderpunkten on behalf of the property company Jefast. Söderpunkten will be a modern shopping and entertainment center of 12,000 square meters with restaurants, cafés, shops and one of the most modern cinemas in the Nordic region. The entire interior will be renovated and on top of the mall's parking deck there will be a cinema with seven screens.

The mall is marketed under the designation "Söder Glöder" and will be a natural meeting point for all living and working nearby. In conjunction with Helsingborg's new meeting place, Skanska will also build a 20-storey high building with offices and approximately 80 residential units. The mall was recently completed, and tenants will be moving into the apartments in 2020.

C4 SHOPPING – KRISTIANSTAD

C4 Shopping opened in 2018 and is rolling out expansion in stages over the coming years. Located in Kristianstad, a city with strong commercial traditions, the new shopping center is in the center of a region with 300,000 inhabitants. Every year, about 3 million people drive through the C4, which makes the shopping center a perfect place for business. With its 70,000 square meters, 2,400 parking spaces, and 100 retail spaces it will be a commercial center attracting visitors from Eastern Skåne, Western Blekinge and Southern Småland. It is situated in the green surroundings of the castle of Hammarshus, where King Christian IV of Denmark founded the city in 1614.

"I love this city and that is why I have invested heavily in it, with a total of three new hotels in the coming years. Malmö has incredible potential with its pioneering spirit and diversity and I have decided to be part of the city's growth."

– Petter A Stordalen, owner of Nordic Choice Hotels, in newspaper Sydsvenskan

NEW HARBOR DISTRICT – MALMÖ

Sweden is a stable but competitive economy where new ideas are welcome. Nonetheless, international expansion is an investment with potential returns and risks. Growing a business in a new market is a complex and dynamic process that must be approached strategically.

In Sweden there are several regional companies that act as partners to help international companies develop successful businesses in Sweden by providing strategic advice, information and hands-on support. Services are free of charge and in full confidentiality.

THREE STEPS FOR ESTABLISHING IN SWEDEN

Below is a three-step investment and trade facilitation process designed to help retailers evaluate and capitalize on potential investment opportunities with maximum ease and effectiveness. The role of the regional companies is to assist international retailers in each of the following steps.

1 DEFINE: BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY

The first step is to conduct a market and industry analysis and gain insights about the Swedish market. Understanding of the Swedish business climate, consumer behaviors, the industry sectors, operating costs, legal framework and more will allow for clearly defined business goals suited to the Swedish market.

2 SEARCH: MATCHING BUSINESS REQUIREMENTS

Having gained a solid market analysis and clearly defined goals, it is time to define the opportunities that best match specific business requirements; covering areas like location, technologies and potential partners. Regional companies contribute with regional and local networks and access to detailed data.

3 MEET: SWEDISH COMPANIES FOR ESTABLISHMENT SUPPORT

Finally, it is time to arrange meetings with Swedish companies and form strategic partnerships, R&D collaborations and other types of cooperation. It might also be a good idea to meet professional service providers, including partner companies that have collaborated in the creation of this report (see page 70), lawyers, accountants and recruitment specialists. This will help and provide support for establishment, such as information on how to set up and run a business in Sweden; including rules and regulations, legal entities, employment matters, taxes and more.

ESTABLISHMENT FACTS

Setting up a business in Sweden is a straightforward process. Procedures are simple and efficient, based on a transparent system that seeks to facilitate the establishment of new enterprises.

WAY OF ENTERING THE MARKET

The most common way to enter the Swedish retail market is through direct ownership. Other ways include franchising and entering via shop-in-shops or testing the market through temporary pop-up stores. There has been strong growth in franchising in Sweden in recent years, especially in the retail, consulting and restaurant sectors.

FAVORABLE RENTAL CONDITIONS

There are no restrictions on foreign companies either buying or renting property in Sweden. Swedish commercial leases are generally standardized and for shorter periods (normally 3-5 years), providing flexibility to business tenants. Rents are normally constructed as a total sum for the space agreed and tend to involve quarterly payment in advance. The rent payable is usually turnover based or fixed. It is common for a minimum base rent to have a turnover element if sales exceed the base rent.

COMMERCIAL LEASES AND RENTS

Compared to other countries, tenants in Sweden have a strong legal position and leased offices are usually adjusted to the tenants' needs and wishes. Landlords bear a higher proportion of operating costs than in other countries. Rent usually includes heating and water but not electricity or telecommunications. Rent also often includes cleaning of common areas and snow removal.

International retailers tend to have longer opening hours than domestic ones, for example Uniqlo in central Stockholm is open until 8:00 p.m. Mon-Fri.

Malmö	4'-5'	4'-5'	4'-5.5'	1.2'-1.6'

OPENING HOURS

Companies are free to set their own opening hours, as long as this is not in conflict with the lease. It is common for the retail trade in a given city to reach an accord on opening hours. During the last year, opening hours have expanded in both high streets and shopping malls.

Typical opening hours for high streets are 10:00 a.m. – 7:00 p.m. Mon-Fri, 10:00 a.m. – 6:00 p.m. Sat, 11:00 a.m. – 6:00 p.m. Sun

For shopping malls opening hours are longer and tend to be the same all days of the week, until 8:00 p.m./9.00 p.m. For grocery stores opening hours vary, for example some in the larger inner cities are open between 07 a.m. – 10 p.m.

SALARY COSTS

The average salary for a full-time salesclerk is 25 900 SEK (about 2430 EUR), before taxes. There is no statutory minimum wage in Sweden; wage issues are instead left to employers and employees and their representatives. In the retail sector, the retail union stipulates a minimum monthly and hourly wage, depending on age and experience, in the collective agreement.
